An Engaging Forum for Professional Development

Drawing on the lessons illustrated in his book, 50 Lessons on Leading for Those with Little Time for Reading, Steve Boehlke will challenge you to examine your beliefs about leadership. He will explore the idea that leadership is a matter of innovation, not position, and will help you sharpen your perception and range of responses when intangible tensions pose barriers to innovative breakthroughs. More specifically, you will learn to:

- Identify and disarm political issues that are hidden inhibitors to innovation
- Expand your understanding and practice of integrity as a leader
- Demonstrate more powerfully the difference between a manager and a leader
- Find your moving center in order to establish both balance and stability in your leadership

Each participant will receive a copy of 50 Lessons on Leading... along with practice in how to use the book, whether it's used to strengthen one's own leadership or to support the development of others.

Meet the Speaker

Steve Boehlke

Steve Boehlke is the founder and president of SFB Associates, a global consulting practice that advises senior executives on strategies that develop leaders with integrity. He believes that anyone can make a difference—anyone can be an effective leader if they choose to be.

For more than 20 years, Steve has worked with companies like: Cargill, ExxonMobil, General Mills, Hewlett-Packard, and Merck as well as the African Leadership Academy located in Johannesburg, South Africa.

A graduate of Princeton University and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, he also holds a Master of Divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary. He lives in Minneapolis, MN.
